CLUE DEVELOPS.

DARKIES ARRESTED FOR THE DURRETT ROBBERY AND ASSAULT.

Robert White and Annie Hendrick, colored, are under arrest on a charge of committing the Durrett robbery last November. The former was arrested yesterday at Jackson, Tenn. The facts in the robbery and assault are well known.

The wife of Mr. Tom Durrett, of Eighth and Jackson, was bound and gagged one night several weeks ago, and robbed of two rings on her finger. She suffered intensely from her cramped position until she awoke her husband in the next room, and at the time no clue to the perpetrators could be discovered.

A day or two ago the rings were found under the carpet of the room occupied by the Hendrick woman, who was employed as cook and help. The discovery was reported to the police and the woman arrested. She protested her innocence, but led the officers to believe that White, who went to see her, was guilty. They telegraphed to Jackson and had him arrested and the trial will probably come up in a day or two.

The principal business of the convention will be consideration of the proposed new constitution, one provision of which is a rigid exclusion of saloon keepers and liquor dealers from membership in the order.

The annual report of National Secretary Colwell showed that there were on December 31, 1901, 609 councils, with a total insured membership of 32,790, and an associate membership of 46,016.

A STRONG SERMON

Preached By Rev. W. E. Biederwolf
Last Night at Union Meeting.

Good Congregations and Decided Interest Despite the Weather.

While the weather of last evening was such as to naturally interfere somewhat with the attendance at the Union Gospel meeting, the congregation was surprisingly large and the interest was marked, proving as Prof. Maxwell said, "that blessings were not dependent upon numbers." A large portion of the big choir were on hand, and the singing was excellent. Prof. Maxwell's rendition of "The Judgment Day" was very fine and most impressive.

Mr. Biederwolf said that when he entered the church he debated if he had better not change his sermon and speak altogether to the Christian people, as he thought maybe they constituted the audience on such a night, but something impelled him to preach as he had intended. He then read Paul's wonderful speech before King Agrippa from Acts 26th, and gave as his text, King Agrippa's words: "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian."

The first part of his discourse was devoted to a consideration of what it meant to be a Christian: 1. That you came into a new relationship to Jesus Christ. All went to know God, and there is nothing God can give us that is not to be found in the Son of God. 2. To be a Christian means something more than to escape hell. It means to be an heir of glory. A ship coming into harbor, the joy of those aboard on seeing the faces of long absent friends and waiting loved ones is not to be compared to the joy of reaching the eternal Home, and greeting the loved ones there. 3. To be a Christian means that we enter into a new relationship with our fellow man. To do our best to help and brighten the world. The plan of Christianity can be grasped by the simplest mind, yet one does not need to throw away his intellect to become a Christian. William E. Gladstone, England's "grand old man," said that during the 40 years he had served his country, he was brought into close relationship with 60 of his master minds, and all except 7 of these were Christians.

The awfulness of not taking advantage of the opportunity to become a Christian was vividly stressed. To grieve away the Holy Spirit is not a light thing. To be near is not, however, as King Agrippa's "Almost" proved. Among the many striking illustrations brought to bear upon his different points by Mr. Biederwolf, was a vivid picture of the death beds of Tom Paine and John Ruskin.

In closing Mr. Biederwolf urged the importance of decision at once, and there were a number of requests for prayer, some remaining to the after-service to talk with the ministers and Mr. Biederwolf. The atmosphere of last evening was intense with feeling and interest.

MOST CORDIAL.

NEW CHILIAN MINISTER PRESENTS HIS CREDENTIALS AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, March 5.—Senator Don Joaquin Walker Martinez, new Chilean minister at Washington, presented his credentials to President Roosevelt yesterday. The minister's address was marked by an unusual warmth of expression.

This is in line with the extremely cordial reception accorded by the Chilean government to the personnel of the battleship Iowa, when she docked at Talcahuano recently. One expression of the minister for instance was:

"It gave me the opportunity to anticipate with facts the intention by which I am inspired as tending to bring Chile and the United States into closer bonds of friendship within an equitable, just, brotherly American policy, but calm and reasonable without utopian public delusions, and bearing in mind the inalienable requirements of the social status of our continent."

The president, in reply, assured the minister of his intention to maintain friendly ties and increased commercial intercourse between the United States and Chile.

The raisin crop of California for the year 1901 is said to be 72,000,000 pounds, a decrease of over 20,000,000 pounds, as compared with last year.

CIVIC FEDERATION

An Interesting Meeting Held Today

—Report on Charity Work.

Over $600 Has Been Spent by the Ladies During the Winter.

The Civic Federation met at the Palmer house this morning. Reports from the various departments were received. The report from the Benevolent branch was of special interest, as they have borne the brunt of the hard work this winter. Through the terrible sleet storm and lesser bad weather these ladies have been unceasingly called to go to active service. Their report showed over $600 spent in fuel, food, and clothing in meeting the immediate great necessities of the city's poor. Over $65 was raised by the recent charity concert, terrible as the weather was.

REHEARSALS BEGIN.

DEAN'S BAND HAS MUCH NEW

AND UP-TO-DATE MUSIC.

Dean's band will shortly begin its regular rehearsals for the summer playing. The band discontinued its rehearsals at the beginning of winter as there was so little playing in that season. The band has been practically engaged for the Elk's big carnival and also for the big Old Fellows celebration at Murphysboro, Ill., in April. Much new and up-to-date music has been purchased and will be thoroughly worked. Selections from the Burgomaster, Floradora and many other late operas has been purchased and the band will probably enter the contests.

The band has been reinforced this winter by the addition of several new members and now is about 25 strong. It was never in a better condition than at present and much is expected of it this season.

BASEBALL PARK.

STOCK WILL BE SUBSCRIBED AT ONCE—TEN YEAR LEASE.

Mr. Walter Wilkins of the Excelsior Bicycle works, will shortly start out to secure stockholders for the new baseball park that will be built near the Illinois Central depot.

The lease has already been arranged and can be fixed for ten years. If the lessee wish to purchase the ground it is open for sale and if the park proves to be as profitable as it is thought it will prove, then the stockholders will probably purchase the ground. All the baseball playing by local clubs last season was done away from Paducah, but this season the sports intend to have a little of the fun here in Paducah.
